The Securities are not fixed income securities and are not designed to be alternatives to fixed income or money market instruments. Since the Securities are not principal protected, you could lose substantially all of your investment. See “Risk Factors”.

The net proceeds to the Bank reflects the maximum offering size of the Securities. There is no minimum amount of funds that must be raised under this offering. This means that the issuer could complete this offering after raising only a small proportion of the offering amount set out above.

The Securities are offered severally by RBC Dominion Securities Inc. (“RBC DS”) and Desjardins Securities Inc. (collectively, the “Dealers”) as agents under a dealer agreement dated March 15, 2024, as amended or supplemented from time to time. RBC DS is our wholly owned subsidiary. The initial estimated value of the Securities on or about the date of this pricing supplement was US$97.27 per Security, which is less than the price to the public and is not an indication of the actual profit to the Bank or its affiliates. The actual value of the Securities at any time will reflect many factors and may be less than this amount. We describe our determination of the initial estimated value, and certain associated risk factors, in more detail below under “Initial Estimated Value” and in the base shelf prospectus under “Preparation of Initial Estimated Value” and “Risk Factors”.

The Securities will not be listed on any stock exchange. Securities may be resold using the Fundserv network at a price determined at the time of sale by the Calculation Agent (defined below), which price may be lower than the Principal Amount of such Securities. There is no assurance that a secondary market for the Securities will develop or be sustained. See “Secondary Market for Securities”, “Description of the Securities – Calculation Agent” and “Risk Factors” in the base shelf prospectus and “Secondary Market” in this pricing supplement.

Securities described in this pricing supplement will be issued under our Senior Note Program and will be unsecured, unsubordinated debt obligations. The Securities are described in the base shelf prospectus and this pricing supplement, which collectively constitute the “prospectus” for the Securities. See “About this Prospectus for Securities” in the base shelf prospectus. You should read both the base shelf prospectus and this pricing supplement carefully to understand fully the terms of the Securities and other considerations that are important to your investment decision. See Appendix E – Additional Information for more information.

See “Description of the Securities – Maturity Date and Amount Payable” and “– Special Circumstances” in the base shelf prospectus.
Underlying Indices:	The return on the Securities is linked to the performance of the Portfolio. The Underlying Indices will be equally weighted in the Portfolio (the “Portfolio Weight”) at the Initial Valuation Date. Such weightings will not be adjusted or rebalanced during the term of the Securities. Each of the Underlying Indices is an adjusted return index that aims to track the gross total return performance of its respective Target Index, subject to a reduction of a synthetic dividend of a fixed number of index points per annum. For the avoidance of doubt, the return on the Securities is linked to the Portfolio, which includes the Underlying Indices, and is not linked to the Target Indices or the constituent securities thereof. Each of the Target Indices is a gross total return index that reflects the price changes of its constituent securities and the reinvestment in the index of any dividends and distributions paid in respect of such constituent securities. Additional information with respect to the Underlying Indices and their respective Target Indices are included in Appendix B to this pricing supplement. There is no assurance of the ability of the issuers of the securities comprising the Target Indices to declare and pay dividends or make distributions in respect of the constituents of the Target Indices or to sustain or increase such dividends and distributions at or above historical levels. As of September 5, 2024, the annual dividend yield on the Portfolio was 6.729% representing an aggregate dividend yield of approximately 57.753% compounded annually over the term of the Securities, on the assumption that the dividend yield remains constant. As of September 5, 2024, the annual dividend yield on the Solactive BCE GTR Index was 8.088% representing an aggregate dividend yield of approximately 72.362% compounded annually over the term of the Securities, on the assumption that the dividend yield remains constant. As of September 5, 2024, the annual dividend yield on the Solactive TC Energy GTR Index was 5.978% representing an aggregate dividend yield of approximately 50.145% compounded annually over the term of the Securities, on the assumption that the dividend yield remains constant.

As of September 5, 2024, the annual dividend yield on the Solactive Enbridge GTR Index was 6.648% representing an aggregate dividend yield of approximately 56.917% compounded annually over the term of the Securities, on the assumption that the dividend yield remains constant.

As of September 5, 2024, the annual dividend yield on the BNS GTR Index was 6.197% representing an aggregate dividend yield of approximately 52.330% compounded annually over the term of the Securities, on the assumption that the dividend yield remains constant.

The performance of the Underlying Indices will vary higher or lower from the performance of a price return index (being an index which tracks the price performance of its constituent securities without taking into account the effects of dividends and distributions) with the same constituents as the Target Indices over the term of the Securities depending on whether the impact of the dividends and other distributions reinvested in the Target Indices is greater or less than the impact the Adjusted Return Factors have on the Portfolio Level (defined below) over the term of the Securities.

See “Description of the Securities” in the base shelf prospectus. See Appendix B to this pricing supplement for summary information regarding the Underlying Indices. See “Risk Factors” in this pricing supplement and “Risk Factors – Risk Factors Related to the Underlying Interests” in the base shelf prospectus for a discussion of risks relating to the Underlying Indices.

Portfolio Level: The Portfolio Level for the Portfolio on any Exchange Day (defined in the base shelf prospectus) is calculated by (a) multiplying (i) the Closing Level (defined below) of each Underlying Index, as published by the Index Sponsor, on such Exchange Day by (ii) the corresponding Number of Index Units (defined below) for such Underlying Index; and (b) aggregating the resulting products.

Number of Index Units: The Number of Index Units for each Underlying Index is calculated by: (i) multiplying the Portfolio Weight for such Underlying Index by the aggregate Principal Amount of Securities issued under this offering; and (ii) dividing the resulting product by the Closing Level of each Underlying Index, as published by the Index Sponsor, on the Initial Valuation Date.
Once determined, the Number of Index Units for each Index will not be adjusted during the term of the Securities, except in certain special circumstances. See “Extraordinary Events” below.

Index Sponsor: Solactive AG.

Initial Portfolio Level: The Portfolio Level on the Initial Valuation Date.

Initial Valuation Date: September 5, 2024.

Protection Barrier Level: 80.00% of the Initial Portfolio Level.

Final Portfolio Level: The Portfolio Level on the Final Valuation Date.

Final Valuation Date: September 5, 2031.

Percentage Change: The Percentage Change is the amount, expressed as a percentage rounded to three decimal places, equal to:

$$\frac{(\text{Final Portfolio Level} - \text{Initial Portfolio Level})}{\text{Initial Portfolio Level}}$$

See “Description of the Securities – Special Circumstances” in the base shelf prospectus

Closing Level: The official closing level of an Underlying Index as announced by the Index Sponsor for the relevant date, as determined by the Calculation Agent (defined below).

Interest Payments: Interest payments on the Securities will be payable in arrears on each Interest Payment Date at a fixed interest rate of 0.6550% for each monthly period ending on an Interest Payment Date (an “Interest Period”). The Interest Payments will not be contingent on or related to the performance of the Underlying Indices.

Interest Payment Dates: The dates set out under “Interest Payment Dates” in Appendix A, subject to the occurrence of an Extraordinary Event, and provided that if any Interest Payment Date is not a Business

Day, such Interest Payment Date will be the first following day that is a Business Day. See “Description of the Securities – Special Circumstances” in the base shelf prospectus.

Payment at Maturity:	The amount payable on the Maturity Date (the “Redemption Amount”) for each Security will be: (a) if the Final Portfolio Level is greater than or equal to the Protection Barrier Level, US$100.00; or (b) if the Final Portfolio Level is less than the Protection Barrier Level, an amount equal to: $\text{US$100.00} + (\text{US$100.00} \times \text{Percentage Change}),$ but in any event not less than US$1.00. As a result, the Redemption Amount will not be determinable before the Final Valuation Date. See “Risk Factors” below. The Redemption Amount will be paid in addition to the Interest Payment that is due on the Maturity Date.
Sample Calculations:	See Appendix C to this pricing supplement for sample calculations of the Redemption Amount and the Interest Payments payable on the Securities.
Issuer Credit Rating:	Moody’s: Aa1 Standard & Poor’s: AA- DBRS: AA The Securities have not been and will not be rated. See “Risk Factors – Credit Ratings” in the base shelf prospectus.
Extraordinary Events:	Determination of the Portfolio Level and the Redemption Amount, may be postponed or the Bank can accelerate determination of the Final Portfolio Level and the Redemption Amount and repay the Securities in full prior to their maturity in certain circumstances. If an Extraordinary Event occurs the Calculation Agent may, but is not required to, make such adjustments to any payment or other term of the Securities as it determines to be appropriate, acting in good faith, to account for the economic effect of such event on the Securities and determine the effective date of any such adjustment. See “Description of the Securities – Special Circumstances” in the base shelf prospectus.
Summary of Fees and Expenses:	No selling commission will be payable in connection with this issuance of Securities. An agency fee will be paid, from the Bank’s own funds, to Desjardins Securities Inc. in an amount up to 0.15% of the Principal Amount of the Securities issued under this offering for acting as independent agent. The agency fee is indirectly borne by holders of the Securities. There are no fees directly payable by a holder of Securities. See “Description of the Securities – Summary of Fees and Expenses” in the base shelf prospectus.
Eligibility for Investment:	Eligible for RRSPs, RRIFs, RESPs, RDSPs, FHSAs, DPSPs and TFSA’s (each as defined in Appendix D). See “Eligibility for Investment” in Appendix D, including the summary of the “prohibited investment” rule.
Risk Factors:	You should carefully consider all the information set out in this prospectus for any Securities in which you are considering investing. In particular, you should evaluate the risks described under “Risk Factors” in the base shelf prospectus, as well as the risks described below. The return on the Securities at maturity is unknown and subject to many variables, including interest rate fluctuations and changes in the closing level of the Underlying Indices. You should independently determine, with your own advisors, whether an investment in the Securities is suitable for you having regard to your own investment objectives and expectations.

No Upside Participation by the Securities

The return on the Securities is limited; even if the Final Portfolio Level is greater than or equal to the Protection Barrier Level, the return on an investment in the Securities, over the term of the Securities, would be limited to the sum of all Interest Payments made. The Securities will not participate in any upside performance of the Underlying Indices.

Uncertain Redemption Amount until Final Valuation Date

The Redemption Amount will be uncertain until the Final Valuation Date. Regular Interest Payments that are not contingent on or related to the performance of the Underlying Indices will be payable during the term of the Securities. However, depending on the performance of the Underlying Indices, the Redemption Amount may be as little as US$1.00 per Security. Accordingly, holders of the Securities may not be repaid the amount they invested in the Securities. Historical levels of the Underlying Indices should not be considered as an indication of the future performance of the Underlying Indices. Investors should understand that the risk involved in this type of investment is greater than that normally associated with other types of investments.

Volatility May Affect the Redemption Amount or Trading Value of the Securities

Volatility is the term used to describe the size and frequency of price and/or market fluctuations. If the volatility, or anticipated volatility, of the Underlying Indices changes over the term of the Securities, the trading value of the Securities may be adversely affected. In periods of high volatility, the likelihood of an investor not receiving a return of the full Principal Amount of the Securities increases.

The Underlying Indices and Target Indices Have Limited Performance Histories

The Underlying Indices and Target Indices have limited performance histories. See Appendix B – Summary Information Regarding the Underlying Indices. Accordingly, there is limited trading history for the Underlying Indices and Target Indices and as such, the Securities may perform in unexpected ways and may involve greater risk than securities linked to one or more indices with a more established record of performance. This may make it more difficult for an investor to make an informed decision with respect to the Securities.

Redemption Amount Calculated With Reference to Performance of the Underlying Index

The Redemption Amount is calculated with reference to the performance of the Underlying Indices, which are not price return indices and instead aim to track the gross total return performance of their respective Target Indices less the Adjusted Return Factor. Although the Target Indices are a gross total return indices that reflect the applicable performance of the constituent securities of the respective Target Index and any dividends and distributions paid in respect of such securities, without deduction of any withholding tax or other amounts to which an investor holding the constituent securities of the respective Target Index would typically be exposed, an investment in the Securities is not the same as making a direct investment in the constituent securities of the respective Target Index, including the fact that an investor will not have the right to receive any dividends, distributions or other income or amounts accruing or paid on such securities, nor will an investor have the right to exercise any voting rights on such securities. In addition, the Adjusted Return Factor is not representative of an estimate or a forecast of any dividends that may be paid or payable, or of any distributions that may be made, now or in the future on the constituent securities of the respective Target Index.

Returns on the Underlying Indices Are Reduced by the applicable Adjusted Return Factor and will be Lower than Returns on the Target Indices

Since the calculation of each Closing Level will reflect the deduction of the applicable Adjusted Return Factor from the closing level of the applicable Target Index at regular intervals, the performance of each Underlying Index will be less than that of the respective Target Index or a direct investment in the constituent securities of the respective Target Index. Furthermore, the difference between each Underlying Index and the respective Target Index over a longer period is subject to the effects of compounding returns and, as a result, may be greater or less than the applicable Adjusted Return Factor pro-rated over the same period.

Each Adjusted Return Factor is a Fixed Point Deduction

Each Adjusted Return Factor is a fixed point deduction which means that the Underlying Indices are based on the daily gross total return performance of the Target Indices less a fixed number of points that are deducted from the Target Indices at regular intervals. The Adjusted Return Factor of a given Target Index does not vary with the level of the Target Index and, as a result, the Adjusted Return Factor will result in the subtraction of a greater percentage of the level of the Target Index in circumstances where the level of the Target Index decreases over time.

Dividends and Distributions of the Constituent Securities of the Target Indices May Vary When Compared to Historical Levels

An Underlying Index is not a price return index and instead aims to track the gross total return performance of the respective Target Index less the applicable Adjusted Return Factor, which represents a reduction of a synthetic dividend of a fixed number of index points per annum. The level of a given Target Index and, in turn, the applicable Closing Level, may be affected by the ability of the issuers comprising the Target Index to declare and pay dividends or make distributions in respect of the equity securities of the issuers comprising the Target Index. Historical levels of dividends and distributions paid in respect of the constituent securities comprising the Target Index are not indicative of future payments, which payments are uncertain and depend upon various factors, including, without limitation, the financial position, earnings ratio and cash requirements of the applicable issuer and the state of financial markets in general. It is not possible to predict if dividends or distributions paid in respect of the constituent securities comprising the Target Index will increase, decrease or remain the same over the term of the Securities. If the dividends paid out by the constituent securities comprising the Target Index over a period of time decrease below the synthetic dividends represented by the Adjusted Return Factor (taking into account the reinvestment and compounding impacts), the Closing Level at the end of such period will be lower than the closing level of a price return index comprised of the same constituent securities at the end of such period.

Income Tax Considerations

The full amount of each Interest Payment received or receivable by a Resident Holder (as defined below) and, in the event of a sale of a Security in the secondary market, any interest accrued on the Security from the last Interest Payment Date to the time of disposition, will generally be included in the Resident Holder's income, whereas a Resident Holder who holds a Security as capital property will generally realize a capital loss if and to the extent that the Redemption Amount or proceeds of disposition in respect of a Security (net of interest), as the case may be, is less than the Resident Holder's adjusted cost base of such Security. If a Resident Holder realizes a capital loss, such loss is deductible only against capital gains of the Resident Holder (as described in further detail in Appendix D).

Except as otherwise indicated under Appendix D, all U.S. dollar amounts relating to the Securities must generally be converted into Canadian dollars for Canadian tax purposes using the exchange rate quoted by the Bank of Canada for the applicable day or such other rate of exchange that is acceptable to the CRA (as defined below). In certain circumstances, such conversions could result in an investor who disposes of a Security (whether on redemption by the Bank or otherwise) both realizing a capital loss and being required to include an amount in income for purposes of the Tax Act (as defined below). See Appendix D.

The tax consequences to a Holder (as defined below) may be subject to changes in taxation laws, regulations or administrative practices. Any changes to the existing published administrative position of the CRA could result in changes to the tax consequences to a Holder as described herein.

Initial Estimated Value:

The initial estimated value of the Securities set forth on the cover page is an estimate only, calculated on or about the date set forth on the cover page, and does not represent a minimum price at which the Bank, RBC DS or any of our affiliates would be willing to purchase the Securities in any secondary market.

In order to satisfy the Bank's payment obligations under the Securities, the Bank may choose to enter into certain hedging arrangements (which may include call options, put options or other derivatives) on the Issue Date, which may or may not be with RBC DS or one of our other subsidiaries. The terms of these hedging arrangements, if any, take into account a number of factors, including the Bank's creditworthiness, interest rate movements, the volatility of the applicable underlying interest, and the term to maturity and any earlier call date of the Securities. The issue price of the Securities also reflects the selling commissions and/or agency fee, if any, disclosed herein, as well as an amount retained by the Bank to compensate it for the creation, issuance and maintenance of the Securities (which may or may not also include any costs of its hedging obligations thereunder). The initial estimated value for the Securities may therefore be less than their issue price.

See "Risk Factors – The Initial Estimated Value of the Securities Is an Estimate Only, Calculated as of the Time the Terms of the Securities Were Set" in the base shelf prospectus.

Suitability for Investment:

You should consult with your advisors regarding the suitability of an investment in the Securities. The Securities may be suitable for investors:

- who believe that the Final Portfolio Level will be above the Protection Barrier Level;
- who are willing and can afford to risk substantially all of the principal amount of their investment;
- looking to earn a fixed-rate return and who are prepared to assume the risks associated with an investment linked to the performance of the Underlying Indices, which are not a price return index and instead aims to track the gross total return performance of the respective Target Index less the Adjusted Return Factor;
- with an investment horizon equal to the term to maturity of the Securities who are prepared to hold the Securities until maturity; and
- who understand that the potential return on the Securities is limited to the aggregate sum of Interest Payments made during the term of the Securities.

Book-entry Only Securities:

The Securities will be Fundserv Securities (defined in the base shelf prospectus) and will be issued through the "book-entry-only system". See "Description of the Securities – Global Securities" and "– Legal Ownership" in the base shelf prospectus. If the Securities are issued in fully registered and certificated form in the circumstances described in the base shelf prospectus under "Description of the Securities – Legal Ownership – Book-Entry-Only Fundserv Securities", the Redemption Amount will be paid by the Bank to the registered holder.

Listing:

The Securities will not be listed on any stock exchange. See "Risk Factors" in the base shelf prospectus.

Secondary Market:

Securities may be purchased through dealers and other firms that facilitate purchase and related settlement using the Fundserv network. Securities may be resold using the Fundserv network at a sale price equal to the price posted on Fundserv as of the close of business on the Exchange Day on which the order is placed, as determined by and posted to Fundserv by the Calculation Agent, which sale price may be lower than the Principal Amount of such Securities. Generally, to be effective on a Business Day, a redemption request will need to be initiated by 2:00 p.m. (Toronto time) on that Business Day (or such other time as may be established by Fundserv). Any request received after such time will be deemed to be a request sent and received on the next following Business Day. See "Risk Factors – The Initial Estimated Value of the Securities May be Less than the Price to the Public and May not Reflect the Secondary Market Price, if any, of the Securities" and "Secondary Market for Securities – Fundserv" in the base shelf prospectus.

Many factors will affect the price at which you may be able to sell the Securities prior to maturity. For example, factors similar to those that may impact the value of zero coupon bonds and options may have an impact on the price of the Securities. Such factors include: (i) the closing levels of the Underlying Indices; (ii) the time remaining to the Maturity Date; (iii) the volatility of the Underlying Indices; (iv) interest rates; (v) dividends or other income paid on the constituent securities included in the Target Indices; and (vi) changes in our financial condition, results from operations or credit rating. The effect of any one factor may be offset or magnified by the effect of another factor. It is possible in certain limited circumstances that a particular factor may have a contrary effect with the passage of time.

Ongoing information regarding the Securities, including the Portfolio Level and the daily closing price for the Securities may be accessed at www.rbcnotes.com. There is no assurance that a secondary market for the Securities will develop or be sustained. See “Secondary Market for Securities” in the base shelf prospectus.

Public Information

Information contained in this pricing supplement with respect to the Underlying Indices, the Target Indices and the constituent securities in the Target Indices was obtained from a number of public sources that the Bank believes to be reliable, including the Index Sponsor's website at www.solactive.com. The Bank and the Dealers, as well as their respective affiliates and associates, have not independently verified the accuracy or completeness of any such information, including the calculation, maintenance or publication of the Underlying Indices or the Target Indices. Information relating to the Underlying Indices and the Target Indices can be found at www.solactive.com.

Solactive BCE AR 3.99 Index

The Solactive BCE AR 3.99 Index was first launched and published on February 28, 2024. APPENDIX C

Sample Calculations of Final Redemption Amount and Interest Payments

The following examples show how the return on the Securities would be calculated under different scenarios. These examples are included for illustration purposes only. The performance of the Portfolio used in the examples is not an estimate or forecast of the performance of the Portfolio or the Securities. The actual performance of the Portfolio and the Securities will be different from these examples and the differences may be material. All examples assume that a holder of the Securities has purchased Securities with an aggregate Principal Amount of US$100 and that no Extraordinary Event has occurred.

Hypothetical Calculation of the Initial Portfolio Level

It is assumed that the aggregate Principal Amount of Securities issued under this offering is US$12,000,000.00 and the (hypothetical) Closing Levels of the Underlying Indices comprising the Portfolio on the Initial Valuation Date are as illustrated in the table below.

Index Name	Closing Level	Value in Portfolio	Portfolio Weight	Number of Index Units
Solactive BCE AR 3.99 Index	48.23	3,000,000.00	25%	62,201.9490
Solactive TC Energy AR 3.84 Index	62.91	3,000,000.00	25%	47,687.1722
Solactive Enbridge AR 3.66 Index	54.18	3,000,000.00	25%	55,370.9856
Solactive Bank of Nova Scotia AR 4.24 Index	68.03	3,000,000.00	25%	44,098.1920

Based on those assumptions, the Initial Portfolio Level would be the sum of the values under “Value in Portfolio”, which is 12,000,000.00.

Hypothetical Calculation of the Final Portfolio Level

For illustration purposes, it is assumed that no Extraordinary Event has occurred and that the (hypothetical) Closing Levels of the Underlying Indices comprising the Portfolio on the Final Valuation Date are as illustrated in the table below. For the purposes of the following table, certain values have been rounded to two decimal places.

Index Name	Closing Level	Number of Index Units	Value in Portfolio
Solactive BCE AR 3.99 Index	58.84	62,201.9490	3,659,962.68
Solactive TC Energy AR 3.84 Index	78.01	47,687.1722	3,720,076.30
Solactive Enbridge AR 3.66 Index	69.89	55,370.9856	3,869,878.18
Solactive Bank of Nova Scotia AR 4.24 Index	88.44	44,098.1920	3,900,044.10

Based on those assumptions, the Final Portfolio Level would be the sum of the values under “Value in Portfolio”, which is 15,149,961.26.

Example #1 — Portfolio Level Significantly Decreases With Payment on the Maturity Date Less Than the Principal Amount

In this scenario, on the Final Valuation Date, the Final Portfolio Level is below the Protection Barrier Level. In this example, the Initial Portfolio Level of 12,000,000.00 and a Final Portfolio Level of 3,600,000.00. Therefore, the Redemption Amount would be calculated as follows:

Initial Portfolio Level = 12,000,000.00

Final Portfolio Level = 3,600,000.00

Percentage Change = $(3,600,000.00 - 12,000,000.00) / 12,000,000.00 = -0.70000$ or -70.000%

Since the Final Portfolio Level is below the Protection Barrier Level, the Final Redemption Amount is calculated as follows:

$$\text{Final Redemption Amount} = \text{US$}100.00 + (\text{US$}100.00 \times -70.000\%) = \text{US$}30.00$$

Since the monthly coupon of US$0.6550 per Security is not contingent on or related to the performance of the Portfolio, the total Interest Payments made during the term of the Securities are as follows:

$$\begin{aligned} &\text{Principal Amount of Securities} \times 0.6550\% \text{ per Interest Period} \times 84 \text{ Interest Periods} \\ &\text{US$}100.00 \times 0.6550\% \times 84 = \text{US$}55.02 \end{aligned}$$

Therefore, the total amounts payable to the holder of a Security during the 84-month period from the Issue Date to the Maturity Date are:

(a) Redemption Amount: US$30.00

(b) Total Interest Payments made: US$55.02

(c) Total amount paid over the term of the Securities: US$85.02

The equivalent annually compounded rate of return in this example is -2.29%.

Example #2 — Portfolio Level Slightly Decreases With Payment on the Maturity Date Equal to the Principal Amount

In this scenario, on the Final Valuation Date, the Final Portfolio Level is above the Protection Barrier Level. Therefore, the Redemption Amount would be equal to US$100.

Since the monthly coupon of US$0.6550 per Security is not contingent on or related to the performance of the Portfolio, the total Interest Payments made during the term of the Securities are as follows:

$$\begin{aligned} & \text{Principal Amount of Securities} \times 0.6550\% \text{ per Interest Period} \times 84 \text{ Interest Periods} \\ & \text{US$100} \times 0.6550\% \times 84 = \text{US$55.02} \end{aligned}$$

Therefore, the total amounts payable to the holder of a Security during the 84-month period from the Issue Date to the Maturity Date are:

- (a) Redemption Amount: US$100.00
- (b) Total Interest Payments made on Interest Payment Dates: US$55.02
- (c) Total amount paid over the term of the Securities: US$155.02

The equivalent annually compounded rate of return in this example is 6.46%.

Example #3 — Portfolio Level Increases With Payment on the Maturity Date Equal to the Principal Amount

In this scenario, on the Final Valuation Date, the Final Portfolio Level is above the Protection Barrier Level. Therefore, the Redemption Amount would be equal to US$100.

Since the monthly coupon of US$0.6550 per Security is not contingent on or related to the performance of the Portfolio, the total Interest Payments made during the term of the Securities are as follows:

$$\begin{aligned} & \text{Principal Amount of Securities} \times 0.6550\% \text{ per Interest Period} \times 84 \text{ Interest Periods} \\ & \text{US$100} \times 0.6550\% \times 84 = \text{US$55.02} \end{aligned}$$

Therefore, the total amounts payable to the holder of a Security during the 84-month period from the Issue Date to the Maturity Date are:

- (a) Redemption Amount: US$100.00
- (b) Total Interest Payments made on Interest Payment Dates: US$55.02
- (c) Total amount paid over the term of the Securities: US$155.02

The equivalent annually compounded rate of return in this example is 6.46%.

APPENDIX D

Certain Canadian Income Tax Considerations

In the opinion of Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, the following summary describes the principal Canadian federal income tax considerations under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the “Tax Act”) generally applicable as of the date hereof to a purchaser who purchases Securities as beneficial owner at the time of their issuance under this pricing supplement who, at all relevant times, for purposes of the Tax Act, deals at arm’s length with the Bank and the Dealers (a “Holder”).

This summary is based upon the current provisions of the Tax Act and the regulations thereunder (the “Regulations”), all specific proposals to amend the Tax Act or such Regulations publicly announced by the federal Minister of Finance prior to the date hereof (the “Proposals”) and counsel’s understanding of the current administrative and assessing policies and practices of the Canada Revenue Agency (“CRA”) made publicly available prior to the date hereof. Except for the Proposals, this summary does not take into account or anticipate any changes in the law or the administrative and assessing policies or practices of the CRA, whether by judicial, regulatory, governmental or legislative action, nor does it take into account tax laws of any province or territory of Canada, or of any jurisdiction outside Canada. Provisions of provincial income tax legislation vary from province to province in Canada and may differ from federal income tax legislation. No assurance can be given that the Proposals will be implemented in their current form, or at all.

This summary is of a general nature only and is not intended to constitute, nor should it be relied upon or construed as, tax advice to any particular Holder, nor is it exhaustive of all possible Canadian federal income tax considerations. Holders should consult their own tax advisors as to the potential consequences to them of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of Securities having regard to their particular circumstances.

Except as otherwise indicated below, all U.S. dollar amounts relevant in computing a Holder’s liability under the Tax Act with respect to the acquisition, holding or disposition of Securities must generally be converted into Canadian dollars using the rate of exchange quoted by the Bank of Canada for the applicable day or such other rate of exchange that is acceptable by the CRA. Holders of Securities may, as a consequence, realize income, capital gains or capital losses by virtue of changes in the value of the U.S. dollar relative to the Canadian dollar.

Holders Resident in Canada

The following discussion applies to a Holder who, at all relevant times, for the purposes of the Tax Act is an individual (other than a trust) who is resident (or deemed to be resident) in Canada, who acquires and holds the Securities as capital property, who is not affiliated with the Bank or any of the Dealers and who has not entered into a “derivative forward agreement” (as defined in the Tax Act) in respect of the Securities (a “Resident Holder”). Generally, Securities will be considered to be capital property to a Resident Holder provided that the Resident Holder does not hold the Securities in the course of carrying on a business (or as part of an adventure or concern in the nature of trade). Certain Resident Holders who might not otherwise be considered to hold their Securities as capital property may, in certain circumstances, have their Securities, and all other “Canadian securities” (as defined in the Tax Act) owned by such Resident Holders in the taxation year and each subsequent taxation year, treated as capital property as a result of having made the irrevocable election permitted by subsection 39(4) of the Tax Act. Resident Holders should note that such an election will not affect the requirement to include in income any interest accrued (or deemed to have accrued) on a Security to the time of a sale, assignment or transfer.

Interest Payments

The amount of any interest received or receivable (depending on the method regularly followed in computing income under the Tax Act) by a Resident Holder in a taxation year (including the amount of any Interest Payment or the amount of any interest received on an early repayment by the Bank as a consequence of an Extraordinary Event, as described below) will be required to be included in computing the Resident Holder’s income for the taxation year.

Disposition of Securities Other Than to the Bank on the Maturity Date or as a Consequence of an Extraordinary Event

On an assignment or other transfer of a Security by a Resident Holder (other than to the Bank on the Maturity Date or an early repayment as a consequence of an Extraordinary Event), the Resident Holder will be required in the taxation year in which the assignment or transfer occurs to include in income the amount of interest accrued on the Security from the last Interest Payment Date to the time of such assignment or transfer (except to the extent that such amount has already been included in the Resident Holder’s income). Resident Holders should consult their own tax advisors as to the amount, if any, required to be included in income on such an assignment or transfer of a Security, and whether or to what extent an offsetting deduction may be available to the extent that the portion of the consideration received or receivable by the Resident Holder for the Security that can reasonably be considered to be in respect of such accrued interest is less than the amount of such inclusion.

The net amount, if any, required to be so included in computing income as described above will be excluded in computing the Resident Holder's proceeds of disposition of the Security. The Resident Holder generally will realize a capital loss (or a capital gain) to the extent that the proceeds of disposition, net of any reasonable costs of disposition, are less than (or exceed) the Resident Holder's adjusted cost base of the Security.

Disposition of Securities to the Bank on the Maturity Date or as a Consequence of an Extraordinary Event

A Resident Holder will not be required to include any amount in income on account of interest in respect of a disposition of a Security to the Bank on the Maturity Date if the Redemption Amount payable in respect of such Security as expressed in U.S. dollars is equal to or less than the Principal Amount of such Security, as expressed in U.S. dollars.

A Resident Holder who disposes of a Security to the Bank in connection with an early repayment as a consequence of an Extraordinary Event will be required in the taxation year in which the early repayment occurs to include in income the amount of interest accrued on the Security from the last Interest Payment Date to the time of the early repayment (except to the extent that such amount has already been included in the Resident Holder's income). A Resident Holder may also be required to include an additional amount in income to the extent that a portion of the early repayment amount can reasonably be considered to relate to interest on the Security that would otherwise have been payable after the date of such payment. Resident Holders should consult their own tax advisors as to the amount, if any, required to be included in income on an early repayment as a consequence of an Extraordinary Event, and whether or to what extent an offsetting deduction may be available to the extent that the portion of the consideration received or receivable by the Resident Holder for the Security that can reasonably be considered to be in respect of interest is less than the amount of such inclusion.

The net amount, if any, required to be so included in computing income as described above will be excluded in computing the Resident Holder's proceeds of disposition of the Security.

A Resident Holder who disposes of a Security to the Bank, whether on the Maturity Date or in connection with an early repayment as a consequence of an Extraordinary Event, generally will realize a capital loss (or capital gain) to the extent that the amount received at such time, excluding any Interest Payment, is less than (or greater than) the Resident Holder's adjusted cost base of such Security.

Treatment of Capital Losses and Capital Gains

Currently, one-half of any capital gain realized by a Resident Holder in a particular taxation year will constitute a taxable capital gain that must be included in the calculation of the Resident Holder's income for such year and one-half of any capital loss realized by a Resident Holder in a particular taxation year will constitute an allowable capital loss that must be deducted against taxable capital gains of the Resident Holder realized in such year and may be deductible against taxable capital gains in any of the Resident Holder's three previous taxation years or any subsequent taxation year, subject to and in accordance with the provisions of the Tax Act. Proposals originally released on June 10, 2024 and revised on August 12, 2024 (the "Capital Gains Proposals") would increase a Resident Holder's capital gains inclusion rate for a taxation year ending after June 24, 2024 from one-half to two-thirds, subject to a transitional rule applicable for a Resident Holder's 2024 taxation year that would reduce the capital gains inclusion rate for that taxation year to, in effect, be one-half for net capital gains realized before June 25, 2024. The Capital Gains Proposals also include provisions that would, generally, offset the increase in the capital gains inclusion rate for up to $250,000 of capital gains realized by the Resident Holder in a year, calculated net of any capital losses incurred in the year (or the portion of the year ending after June 24, 2024 in the case of the 2024 taxation year), and which are not offset by net capital losses from other years which are deducted against taxable capital gains in the year. If the Capital Gains Proposals are enacted as proposed, capital losses realized prior to June 25, 2024 which are deductible against capital gains included in income for the 2024 or subsequent taxation years will offset an equivalent capital gain regardless of the inclusion rate which applied at the time such capital losses were realized. Resident Holders should consult their own tax advisors.

Capital gains realized by a Resident Holder may give rise to a liability for alternative minimum tax.

Holders Not Resident in Canada

The following discussion applies to a Holder who, at all relevant times, for the purposes of the Tax Act: (a) is neither resident nor deemed to be resident in Canada; (b) deals at arm's length with any Canadian resident (or deemed Canadian resident) to whom the Holder disposes of the Securities; (c) is entitled to receive all payments (including any interest and principal) made on the Securities; (d) is not a "specified shareholder" of the Bank or a person who does not deal at arm's length with a specified shareholder of the Bank for purposes of the "thin capitalization" rules in the Tax Act; (e) is not an entity in respect of which the Bank or any transferee resident (or deemed to be resident) in Canada to whom the Holder disposes of, loans or otherwise transfers the Securities is a "specified entity", and is not a "specified entity" in respect of such a transferee, in each case, for purposes of the "hybrid mismatch rules" in the Tax Act (the "Hybrid Mismatch Rules"); (f) does not use or hold and is not deemed to use or hold the Securities in the course of carrying on a business in Canada; and (g) is not an insurer carrying on an insurance business in Canada and elsewhere (a "Non-Resident Holder").

Interest paid or credited or deemed to be paid or credited on the Securities to a Non-Resident Holder (including the amount of any Interest Payment, the amount of any interest paid as a consequence of an Extraordinary Event or the amount of any interest deemed to be paid in certain cases involving the assignment or other transfer of a Security to a resident or deemed resident of Canada) will not be subject to Canadian non-resident withholding tax unless any portion of such interest is contingent or dependent on the use of or production from property in Canada or is computed by reference to revenue, profit, cash flow, commodity price or any other similar criterion or by reference to dividends paid or payable to shareholders of any class of shares of the capital stock of a corporation ("Participating Debt Interest"). Having regard to the terms of the Securities, interest paid or credited or deemed to be paid or credited on the Securities should not be considered to be Participating Debt Interest.

In addition, in certain circumstances, interest that is paid by a resident of Canada to a non-resident of Canada will be a deemed dividend, and therefore subject to Canadian non-resident withholding tax, where the interest constitutes the deduction component of a "structured arrangement" that is a "hybrid mismatch arrangement" as contemplated by the Hybrid Mismatch Rules.

Taking into account the foregoing, the Bank does not intend to withhold Canadian non-resident withholding tax from interest paid or credited or deemed to be paid or credited by the Bank or an affiliate of the Bank on the Securities. Non-Resident Holders should consult with their own tax advisors before acquiring a Security or disposing of a Security to a resident or deemed resident of Canada other than the Bank or an affiliate of the Bank.

There should be no other taxes on income (including taxable capital gains) payable by a Non-Resident Holder in respect of a Security.

Eligibility for Investment

The Securities, if issued on the date of this pricing supplement, would be qualified investments (for purposes of the Tax Act) for trusts governed by registered retirement savings plans ("RRSPs"), registered retirement income funds ("RRIFs"), tax-free savings accounts ("TFSAs"), registered disability savings plans ("RDSPs"), first home savings accounts ("FHSAs"), registered education savings plans ("RESPs") and deferred profit sharing plans ("DPSPs"), each within the meaning of the Tax Act (other than a DPSP to which payments are made by the Bank or a corporation or partnership with which the Bank does not deal at arm's length within the meaning of the Tax Act).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if Securities are "prohibited investments" (as that term is defined in the Tax Act) for an RRSP, RRIF, TFSA, RDSP, FHSA or RESP, the annuitant of the RRSP or RRIF, the holder of the TFSA, RDSP or FHSA, or the subscriber of the RESP, as the case may be (each a "Plan Holder"), will be subject to a penalty tax as set out in the Tax Act. Securities will be prohibited investments for an RRSP, RRIF, TFSA, RDSP, FHSA or RESP of a Plan Holder who has a "significant interest" (as defined in the Tax Act for purposes of the prohibited investment rules) in the Bank or who does not deal at arm's length, within the meaning of the Tax Act, with the Bank. Investors should consult their own tax advisors in this regard.
